DOE Seeks Multiple Vendors for $120M Field Site Support Contract Vehicle

NICHOLS MARTIN

The Department of Energy has started its solicitation process for a $120 million multiple-award contract vehicle to procure technical assistance services for the field sites backed by the Consolidated Business Center of DOE's environmental management office.

DOE said Wednesday the five-year contract will use firm-fixed-price and time-and-materials task orders, including an initial one valued at $10 million for 18 months of support work at the EM-Los Alamos field office.

Work will include project integration, administrative support, emergency management, waste management, nuclear safety, records management, engineering, training and quality assurance.

The Moab Uranium Mill Tailings Remedial Action and the West Valley Demonstration Project are also covered by the acquisition program.
